Project Title: The Addams Family (1964 TV series)

I think that this website would benefit from being a multi-page site with roughly 3 simple-layout pages. I tend to prefer a vertical navigation bar, but I'm not sold on that, especially at smaller screen sizes. It would be nice to be able to include screengrabs or gifs from the actual show to incorporate a cheeky sense of humor into the site, similar to the show. Ideally, the whole site should look fun and a little macabre, but not cheesy.

- Intro / Quick Data – This page should be the 5-second read, with a condensed introduction from the Wikipedia page as well as a lot of the relevant quick data (producers, run-time, network, etc.). A link to the show's Amazon Video or IMBD page should be included.
 - Shout-out: I think a shout-out should be given to Vic Mizzy, the composer of the opening theme. If the song could play when clicking on her photo, then awesome, if not, then no harm, no foul. Another shoutout should be to Charles Addams, the original cartoonist who created the Addams family. These can be short and sweet.
 - Sources: At the bottom of this page, fully as tertiary text, the sources/credits should be included (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/The_Addams_Family_\(1964_TV_series\)) / image sources, / etc.)
- Plot - A condensed version of the overall plot / episode structure.
 - I would also like to include a nod to this quote by David Levi, near the top of the Production section of the wikipedia page. I think that parts of this could make a cool visual element running across part of the page. Have fun with it!
 - "We have made [the family] full-bodied people, not monsters ... They are not grotesque and hideous manifestations. At the same time we are protecting the images of [Charles] Addams' 'children', as he refers to them. We are living up to the spirit of his cartoons. He is more than just a cartoonist. He's a social commentator and a great wit."
- Family Portraits - This page should be the most designed. I would like to have a line-up of the different characters as either individual portraits or mug shots with a hover function to see a short description of them. This should include all of the Addams family, plus Cousin Itt. These images are pretty available online. Gifs could also be fun, but aren't necessary if they prove too difficult. The actors who play the characters should also be noted here.
